ED CONWAY
He Will Be Missed

The Pitt administration, Pitt supporters and Tri-State area sports fans in general were deeply saddened this past summer by the untimely death of Ed Conway.

The University of Pittsburgh felt his death a keen loss because Ed not only served as the voice of Pitt football over WTAE Radio for the past four years, but he was a friend.

Ed Conway was more than an honest, hard-working, professional sportscaster. He was a decent human being who was more concerned about others than he was impressed with his own position and power. In an age of super egos, Ed Conway was a rarity.

This 1974 Pitt Media Guide is dedicated to his memory. He will be missed.

Dr. Wesley W. Posvar
Chancellor

During his seven years as chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh, Dr. Wesley W. Posvar has secured a reputation as Pitt's top sports fan. He often travels with Pitt's teams to their out-of-town contests and is a familiar visitor after the games and at practice sessions. He has been named "Sportsman of the Year" by the Allegheny County Civic Sportsmen's Association; two of his most cherished treasures are a football the players presented to him after the first vistory of the 1973 season and a poster showing a Panther and a sunburst (in honor of Pitt's Fiesta Bowl bid) executed by his youngest daughter.

Dr. Posvar is a former college athlete and believes in intercollegiate sports within the framework of the academic structure. He also believes in winning. "Academically," Dr. Posvar told a group of sportswriters on one away trip, "Pitt is one of the finest universities in the country. That's a fact and we mean to keep it that way. But let me tell you something — we're going to have sports teams to match, and that goes for every sport, starting with football and working down the line. That's a pledge."

Dr. Posvar has kept his word. Pitt had its first winning football season (6-4-1) in better than a decade in 1973-74 and its basketball team (25-4) went to the NCAA playoffs.

A former Rhodes Scholar and Chairman of the Social Sciences Division at the Air Force Academy, Dr. Posvar is Pitt's 15th chancellor. He holds five academic degrees and his scholarly achievements have gained him national attention.

Dr. Posvar graduated first in his class from West Point in 1946, achieving one of the highest grades in the Academy's history. He subsequently was a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford University from 1948-51, receiving both his B.A. and M.A. in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics. He also earned the Master of Public Administration and the Ph.D. in political science from Harvard in 1964.

Casimir J. Myslinski
Athletic Director

Last year Cas Myslinski directed an athletic program that included the nation's most improved football team and a basketball squad that concluded its season as an Eastern Regional Finalist.

The football team finished 6-4-1 and played in the Fiesta Bowl while the basketball squad earned a 25-4 record including 22 consecutive wins.

Last year also saw the Pitt swimming team break almost all its records, the wrestlers produce two All-Americans, the track team gain national attention and also host the 98th Annual IC4A Championships. That's what Myslinski meant in 1968 when he announced his aim "to bring the athletic program back to the heights it deserves." Pitt sports are back . . . in a big way.

In his first full year as Athletic Director, Pitt completed its best athletic season in 11 years. Since then Panther teams have achieved five consecutive winning years.

Myslinski's duties include directing Pitt's 11 men's sports, its five women's sports, the intramural program and the entire range of athletic facilities on the Oakland campus.

Just this year, Myslinski has made a commitment to a top-notch women's athletic program which will include five sports, improved facilities and scholarship athletes.

Myslinski wants Pitt to be a winner in every way. That's the way he started at Army. He entered West Point in September 1941 in the last pre-World War II class. Under the stepped-up wartime program he graduated in three years with a B.S. in engineering and pilot wings. Later he earned a Masters in Education from Teachers College, Columbia University.

Myslinski captained the 1943 Army team and earned their Most Valuable Player award that year. He was named to every first-team All-American squad at center and received the Knute Rockne Award as the nation's Outstanding Lineman of 1943.

Following graduation from West Point in 1944, he entered the Air Force. In 1952 he returned to West Point as Deputy Head of the Department of Physical Education and moved from there in 1956 to Head of the Department of Physical Education at the United States Air Force Academy in Colorado.

Born in Steubenville, Ohio, Cas and his wife Sandy, have two married daughters, Linda and Patricia (both graduates of Pitt), a son Michael 20, and a daughter Dorothy 18.

This is the University of Pittsburgh

Natural Sciences in Chemistry Building

Learning Research and Development Center

Almost a decade after the American Revolution, a few men met in a log house near the confluence of the Allegheny, Monongahela and Ohio Rivers to plan a school which would teach "more than just the first elements."

That school, the Pittsburgh Academy, was the forerunner of the University of Pittsburgh. It was chartered on February 28, 1787 – within months of the drafting of the U.S. Constitution – and its founding principal was Judge Hugh Henry Brackenridge. The earliest written record of the curriculum dates from 1789 and lists "the Learned Languages, English and the mathematicks." Pittsburgh had a population of some 400 people when this first school of higher learning west of the Alleghenies was established. It was housed in a log cabin located in what is today's downtown Pittsburgh.

Over the years, Pitt became heavily oriented to its own backyard and to the education of great numbers of commuting students. "Trolley College" sprang up and stuck as a nickname for the school that welcomed droves of students who descended from orange, and later red trolley cars.

With Edward Litchfield in 1955, came a concerted effort to discard the nickname in an across-the-board pursuit of academic excellence that would project Pitt into a position of prominence among the great institutions in the nation and world. Litchfield upgraded student standards, sought and won large numbers of distinguished faculty, doubled salaries and, after five years, doubled the size of the faculty. He introduced an international dimension, and encouraged a cosmopolitan mix in the student body for he felt the university would best serve its region by adopting a world view.

He launched a massive building program, acquired jealously guarded urban property, established interdisciplinary centers and enriched the university's programs to the point where many of them not only challenged but also bettered those offered in the world's top universities.

In 1965, after suffering a minor heart attack, and under fire for a financial crisis, he resigned.

Under the leaderships of two interim chancellors – Stanton Crawford, who died in office, and David Kurtzman – Pitt entered into private-public partnership for financial support and became state-related. This increased the measure of state support and provided a tuition supplement to enable Pennsylvania students to attend the university for a low out-of-pocket outlay.

In June of 1967, Wesley Posvar became the 15th chancellor. Of the financial difficulties that had preceded him and of solution, he said: ". . . (they) may someday be regarded less as deviations than as forerunners of financial trends elsewhere in American higher education."

Today Pitt is a complex of 16 schools, 87 departments, and 10 special centers. It is private, state-related, and non-sectarian. It has some 35,000 students on the Oakland campus and four regional campuses; it employs a total of nearly 6,000 full-time persons, including 2,100 full-time faculty members; it is the second largest employer in the city limits of Pittsburgh; it has 550 part-time faculty and more than 1,465 part-time technical and professional personnel. Each year, the faculty teaches more than 800,000 credit hours and carries out nearly $30 million worth of sponsored research. (In recent years the university has been the site of three significant scientific accomplishments: the Salk polio vaccine, developed and tested at Pitt by Dr. Jonas Salk in 1953; the synthesizing of ACTH by Dr. Klaus Hofman, in 1961; and the creation of synthetic insulin by Dr. Panayotis Katsoyannis in 1964.) Current construction projects on the Oakland campus alone are valued in excess of $50 million.

In his inaugural address on March 27, 1968, Dr. Posvar pointed to the future:

"The university, because it is more stable and more independent than governments and corporations, will become the creative eye for the new society – for its communications systems, its social patterns, and its political and economic structures."

"This I submit to you, is the keynote of the next major stage of advancement of the University of Pittsburgh."

Why Panthers?

The Panther (felis concolor) was adopted as the University of Pittsburgh's mascot at a meeting of student and alumni leaders in the early autumn of 1909. According to George M. P. Baird, '09, who made the suggestion, it was chosen for the following reasons: (1) the Panther was the most formidable creature once indigenous to the Pittsburgh region; (2) it had ancient, heraldic standing as a noble animal; (3) the happy accident of alliteration; (4) the close approximation of its hue to the old gold of the University's colors (old gold and blue), hence its easy adaptability in decoration; and (5) the fact that no other college or university then employed it as a symbol.

Johnny Majors

Head Football Coach

On December 19, 1972, Johnny Majors was named as the new head football coach at the University of Pittsburgh.

On December 19, 1973, Majors was making his final preparations for Pitt's first bowl appearance in 17 years – the '73 Fiesta Bowl in Tempe, Arizona.

The "MAJOR Change" at Pitt came quickly. It took only one year to return the Panthers to football prominence. And that effort earned Johnny Majors Coach-of-the-Year honors nationwide. It was a Cinderella effort by a Cinderella coach.

Majors led Pitt to a 6-4-1 regular season against teams like Georgia, West Virginia, Penn State, and Notre Dame, and then took on the nation's top offensive machine – Arizona State – in the Fiesta Bowl.

Majors' dynamic first year at Pitt brought the first winning season in 11 years to the Oakland campus, the first bowl appearance in 17 years, Pitt's first All-American footballer in 10 years (Tony Dorsett), the most offensive yards in one season and an increased attendance of 12,000 people at Pitt Stadium every home game.

Pittsburgh's Dapper Dan Club honored Majors with its prestigious award. The U.S. Football Writers and the Walter Camp Foundation both named him as their Coach-of-the-Year. And the Coaches All-America game in Lubbock, Texas, selected Johnny as head coach of the East squad.

The honors rolled in – locally, regionally, and nationally. Now the work continues. He, himself, has said that the first step was the easiest; 1974 will present new obstacles, and more difficult problems.

But Pitt fans are convinced Majors is the right man to continue the hard work. He is highly motivated. He's enthusiastic. He wants things done yesterday. He can recruit. He's tireless. He can communicate. He's got a magic about him. He's got charisma. And most importantly of all, he's proven that he can coach.

When he was hired last year, Majors represented more than just hope or a commitment. He represented a dynamic young man who had proven he could turn around a losing program. And he did that in the strongest football conference in the country – the Big Eight.

Six years ago Majors took over an Iowa State job that seemed hopeless. Far, far more hopeless than the Pitt situation. The Cyclones had one of the worst football reputations in the country and had never in their long history been invited to a bowl game.

Majors changed all of that – he put Iowa State on the football map. His first two squads were 3-7, but that was an improvement and the Cyclones were getting beaten by respectable scores. The following year he was 5-6, with one of the victories coming over a strong Missouri team and one of the losses a 29-28 heartbreaker to Oklahoma.

Then came the payoff. The biggest crowds in Iowa State history flocked to Ames to watch Majors' team roll to an 8-3 record and a Sun Bowl invitation, the school's first bowl appearance ever.

He was named Big Eight Coach-of-the-Year by both wires services. Gridiron Magazine selected him as national Coach-of-the-Year and he was selected head coach of the North team in the North-South Shrine game in Miami. (Pitt's Ralph Cindrich played on Majors' North team.)

His last year at Iowa State, Majors took the Cyclones to the Liberty Bowl.

That was enough to convince Pitt officials he was the man needed to turn around a dying football program. It was quickly tabbed as "The MAJOR Change in Pitt Football." And Majors didn't disappoint anyone. The record, reborn enthusiasm and Pitt fans will attest to that.

Pitt's head coach comes from the most famous football family in the state of Tennessee — and for that matter, maybe the whole country. His father, Shirley, was highly successful in high school and even more so at the University of the South. Two of John's younger brothers, Bill and Bobby, were great football stars at Tennessee.

Johnny, though, was the biggest star. An All-American tailback at Tennessee, he led the Vols in 1956 to a 10-0 regular season record (Sugar Bowl) and finished second to Paul Hornung in the Heisman Trophy balloting. He was twice named MVP in the Southeast Conference, and still holds a number of Vol all-time records. For this, he is a charter honoree in the Tennessee Hall of Fame.

Following graduation from Tennessee, Majors began his coaching career as an assistant at his alma mater. From there he moved to Mississippi State and then in 1963 joined Frank Broyles' staff at Arkansas as defensive backfield coach. In 1968, he accepted the Iowa State position.

Majors is married to the former Mary Lynn Barnwell of Chattanooga, Tennessee. He and his wife have two children — John Ireland, 9, and Mary Elizabeth, 7. Majors, 38, resides in the Fox Chapel area of Pittsburgh.

Jackie Sherrill
Assistant Head Coach
Defensive Coordinator

Jackie Sherrill heads what Johnny Majors has called "the finest young coaching staff in America." He coordinates the workload for the staff.

Sherrill was promoted to the position of assistant head coach and defensive coordinator in 1970 at Iowa State and retained those responsibilities when he moved to Pitt a year ago with Majors.

Winning has become a way of life for Jackie. He played on two "bowl" teams in high school, was a member of two National teams in college, played on three bowl teams in college and has coached four college bowl squads.

At Biloxi High in Mississippi, Jackie started his career as honorable mention All-American and an All-Stater. He entered Alabama where he played seven different positions – mainly linebacker and fullback. A three-year letterman for Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide, he was a member of the 1964 and 1965 National Championship team and captained the 29-28 Orange Bowl victory over Nebraska in 1966. He played in the 1964 and 1965 Sugar Bowls and the 1966 Orange Bowl.

Following graduation in 1966 he began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Alabama. In 1967 he moved to Arkansas as freshman defensive coach and also helped with the varsity defensive secondary. Majors named him to the Iowa State staff in 1968, and two years later he was promoted to Assistant Head Coach and defensive coordinator.

He was married last winter, and he and his wife, Daryle, reside in Squirrel Hill.

George Haffner
Offensive Coordinator

Last season in his first year at Pitt, George Haffner directed a Panther offense that set a school record for total offense (3805). That in itself tells you something about George Haffner.

A former Notre Dame and Baltimore Colt quarterback, he specializes in coaching the signal-callers, and under his direction last year Bill Daniels improved tremendously to one of the top option quarterbacks in the East.

At Mt. Carmel High in Chicago, George was an All-City quarterback and All-Catholic. He lettered at quarterback at Notre Dame in 1960 and 1961 before transferring to McNeese State for his final year of eligibility and graduation.

He was a member of the Baltimore Colts taxi squad in 1965 and was activated late in the season when the Colts lost John Unitas. George began his coaching career in 1966 by working with the quarterbacks at McNeese State. Next he spent two years as a high school coach at Lake Charles High in Louisiana, helping lead them to the Class AA title in 1967.

John Majors named him to his Iowa State staff in 1969 in charge of quarterbacks, and two years later he was promoted to offensive coordinator where his attack was one of the best in the tough Big Eight. Haffner coached Cyclone quarterback George Amundson, the number-one draft pick of the Detroit Lions two years ago.

George and his wife Norberta have two children – Kevin 7 and Kristin 5.

Joe Avezzano
Offensive Line

Last year Joe Avezzano reorganized the Pitt offensive line from a slow, heavy group to a lighter, quicker squad that helped set an all-time team offensive yardage record (3805) and opened the holes for Tony Dorsett's 1586-yard rushing season.

Avezzano must regroup the offensive line again this year because three of his five starters have graduated. He believes in developing a close relationship with his players. He meets with his linemen weekly at his apartment, and depending on their game-grades, he even cooks dinner

Born in Yonkers, N.Y., he graduated from Miami Jackson (Fla.) in 1961 with 11 letters in football, baseball and basketball. He was All-City in three sports, in addition to being class president and a member of the honor society.

In college, Joe lettered three years as a guard at Florida State, starring in the 36-19 Gator Bowl win over Oklahoma in 1965. Following graduation he played center for the Boston Patriots in 1966.

Avezzano began his coaching career at Massillon High School in 1967, and moved from there to Florida State as a graduate assistant in charge of the freshman offense. In 1969 he was named freshman coach at Iowa State and moved to the varsity staff as offensive line coach in 1970. He followed Johnny Majors to Pitt in December of 1972. Prior to that in 1971 he served as the offensive line coach of the North team in the North-South game in Miami.

This past summer he was married, and he and his wife, Diane, reside in the Mt. Washington area.

Jim Dyar
Defensive Line

One of the top recruiters on the staff, Jim Dyar is a likeable and enthusiastic coach. A former Houston lineman, Dyar educates the Panthers' defensive linemen in the curriculum of the "trenches."

Dyar communicates exceptionally well with his players. Last year his front five helped produce great goal line series against both Tulane and Penn State and only one player, Jim Buckmon, has graduated from Dyar's starting group.

Jim was born in Enterprise, Ala., and graduated from high school in 1962 with 11 letters in football, basketball, track and baseball. He moved to the University of Houston where he lettered twice for Bill Yeomans at guard and tackle. Following graduation he was drafted by the Atlanta Falcons and played for their farm team at Huntsville, Ala. There he was named the Most Valuable offensive player on the team and an All-League selection at guard.

He began his coaching career as a student defensive assistant at Houston for one year. He joined Johnny Majors' staff at Iowa State in 1970 as defensive line coach and moved with Majors to Pitt last year.

Dyar and his wife, Nancy, have two sons – David 9 and Wade 7.

Larry Holton
Defensive Assistant

A former player at Iowa State under Johnny Majors, Larry Holton begins his second year on the Pitt staff. Holton assists with the defensive secondary, and also helps in other defensive areas.

Before coming to Pitt, Larry coached J. T. Thomas at Florida State, the Pittsburgh Steelers' first-round draft pick in 1973.

An All-State tailback at Keokuk High School in Iowa, he entered Iowa State in 1965. He was a three-year starter for the Cyclones as a defensive halfback his senior year under Coach Majors.

Following graduation from Iowa State in 1970, Holton began his coaching career as a graduate assistant under Majors for two years. In 1972 he was named an assistant defensive backfield coach at Florida State, and a year later he joined the Pitt staff.

"Larry is one of the most outstanding young men I've had the pleasure to coach," Majors says. "He was one of the young men who helped establish pride in the program at Iowa State and now he's helping us establish Pitt Pride."

Holton is single.

Harry Jones
Offensive Backfield

In his first full year as a full-time assistant coach, former Arkansas All-American Harry Jones coached another All-American – freshman Tony Dorsett. One of the finest running backs in the history of the Southwest Conference, Jones brings that reputation and five years of professional football experience to the Pitt job.

Jones has established himself as quite a personality in Pittsburgh; he has been especially effective in communicating the "Major Change" to campus groups and alumni gatherings.

He started as an All-State quarterback at Enid High (Oklahoma), and then entered Arkansas in 1963. As a sophomore he was the starting defensive safety on Arkansas' 1964 undefeated National championship team. His defensive backfield coach that year was Johnny Majors.

Jones switched to running back for his junior and senior years and was named All-Southwest Conference and first-team All-American in 1965 and 1966. He led the nation in average per rush (7.7) in 1965, and also holds the team single game record of 293 yards.

During his three years, Arkansas compiled a 29-3 record, won the National title in 1964, and played in two Cotton Bowl games.

He entered the coaching circles in 1971 as a graduate assistant at Oklahoma and later served as assistant freshman coach at Arkansas. He joined the Pitt staff last season.

Jones and his wife, Marilyn, have one boy – Griff 5.

Bob Leahy
Junior Varsity Coach

A thinking man's football player and now coach, Bob Leahy coaches the Panther Junior Varsity. Bob is a former Pittsburgh Steeler quarterback and honorable mention Little All-American at Kansas State Teachers College.

In college Bob was All-Conference for two years after an All-County and All-Long Island career at Lindenhurst High in Lindenhurst, Long Island.

Known by the Steelers as a Coach-on-the-Field, Leahy is considered to possess an outstanding football mind. Steeler coaches failed to stump Leahy in their weekly quizzes on the X's and O's during his two-year professional career.

In addition to his instructional duties, Leahy is also involved with analyzing films, scouting and especially helping the quarterbacks.

In his off-season, Leahy earned a Masters Degree.

Bob and his wife, Susan, live in the Allison Park area near Pittsburgh.

Joe Madden
Defensive Secondary

Johnny Majors believes that his staff must constantly be salesmen for Pitt football. One of his best "salesmen" is Joe Madden who Majors calls the finest defensive secondary coach on the collegiate level.

Madden symbolizes the get-it-done philosophy. Last year he helped organize a tremendously successful weekly Booster group meeting in the nearby Beaver Valley, and this year he plans to have Downtown businessmen meet for lunch weekly to talk about Pitt football.

Madden lettered in boxing at Maryland after a football, boxing and baseball career at St. John's High School in Washington, D.C.

Following graduation from Maryland in 1957, Joe began his extensive coaching career – first as high school coach at Gonzaga High in Washington, D.C. He served as backfield coach at Father Lopez High in Daytona Beach, Fla., from 1959-61.

Madden then moved to the collegiate level in 1962 as scout squad coach at Mississippi State. He was named offensive backfield coach at Morehead State (Ky.) in 1963 and then went to Wake Forest as secondary coach from 1964-67.

Johnny Majors hired him as defensive secondary coach at Iowa State in 1968 where he remained for four seasons before being named defensive coordinator at Kansas State in 1972. He joined the Pitt staff last season.

Madden and his wife, Janis, have four children – Kerry 12, Duffy 11, Casey 7, and Keely 6.

Bob Roper
Receivers

Bowl games seem to follow Bobby Roper every where he goes. As a player and a coach, he has now been associated with seven collegiate bowl games. And Roper is only 31 years of age.

He has been part of three Cotton Bowl games, two Sugar Bowls, one Liberty Bowl and one Fiesta Bowl.

Roper's football career began at Sherman High School in Sherman, Texas, where he captained both the football and basketball teams and was named All-Conference in both sports. From there he entered Arkansas where he lettered as a receiver both his junior and senior seasons and was named All-Southwest Conference in 1964 and 1965. The 1964 Arkansas team won the National Championship and during Roper's last two years the Razorbacks won 22 straight games.

Bobby began coaching as a graduate assistant for two years at Alabama under Bear Bryant. In 1968 he was linebacker coach at Wichita, and from 1969-70 he served as backfield secondary coach at The Citadel. He moved to Virginia as secondary coach in 1971, and then served as secondary coach at Iowa State under Majors. He moved with Majors to Pitt last season.

Married, he and his wife, Sue Ellen, have two boys – Dan 4 and Kurt 2.

Keith Schroeder
Junior Varsity

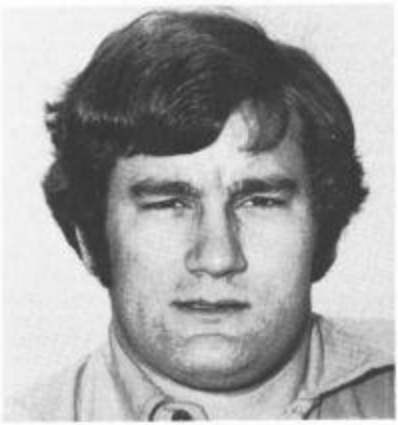
When Johnny Majors hired Keith Schroeder as assistant coach in charge of the scouting program, he hired one of the finest defensive players in Iowa State history.

Schroeder called the Iowa State defensive signals for three years, was named the outstanding junior on the Iowa State squad. His senior year he was picked by the coaches to receive the Reuben Miller Memorial Trophy as the senior who displayed the most leadership on and off the field. He is the co-holder of the record for the longest fumble return (62 yards) at Iowa State.

Schroeder made over 300 tackles at Iowa State, the highest recorded number in the school's history. He was All Big-Eight, honorable mention All-American, tri-captain in the Sun Bowl and Most Valuable Player for the North Squad in the North-South Shrine game.

At West High School in Davenport, Iowa, he won six letters in football, wrestling and baseball. He was All-State in football and captained both the football and baseball teams.

Schroeder served as an assistant freshman coach at Iowa State before coming to Pitt last season. Born in Davenport, Iowa, Schroeder is one of eight children. He is single and 25 years old.



Bob Matey
Junior Varsity

Serving as assistant freshman coach is one of Johnny Majors' former Iowa State stars, Bob Matey.

Matey was All-City for two years at Youngstown's Chaney High School, where he lettered for three years as a fullback. He was also elected to the All-Northeast Ohio team, and honorable mention All-State. The Chaney team lost only two games in those three years.

He entered Iowa State in 1968, in the first group of athletes that Johnny Majors recruited there. Matey was the smallest defensive tackle in the Big Eight, but was a three-year regular for the Cyclones and was a starter on Iowa State's Sun Bowl team in 1971. His Iowa State teammates included current Pitt coaches Larry Holton and Keith Schroeder.

Before coming to Pitt last year, Matey coached the freshman defensive line at Iowa State as a graduate assistant.

Both of Matey's brothers were All-City at Chaney High, and his brother, Ed, is now the head football coach at Chaney.

Matey is 24 years old and single.

Tim Kerin
Football Trainer

Keeping players healthy, tending to their injuries, setting up training table meals, and setting up itineraries are all duties carried out by Pitt trainer, Tim Kerin.

The 1969 graduate of Indiana University (Pa.) supervises a staff of student trainers and coordinates the off-season training program for the Panthers.

A 1965 graduate of Westinghouse Memorial High in Wilmerding, Pa., where he served two years as head student trainer, Tim operated as Indiana's head student trainer for four years. He was head trainer at Penn Hills High School in Pittsburgh for three years. Kerin received his Masters degree from Indiana two years ago.

This will be Tim's third year on the Pitt staff. He and his wife, Mary Lou, have twins – George and Amy Lyn, born this past March.

Dr. James McMaster
Head Team Physician

The University of Pittsburgh has an outstanding Medical School, so it only makes sense that Pitt athletes should benefit from this medical setup.

This year Dr. James McMaster will direct the treatment of the Panther footballers. He is an assistant professor of orthopedic surgery at the Medical School, and heads a team of physicians and trainers who operate the University's Department of Sports Medicine.

A daily clinic will be in operation for the treatment of injuries and illnesses (4:30-6 p.m.) Monday through Friday. The clinic will be staffed on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday by Dr. McMaster. Dr. H. "Woody" Hazer will staff the clinic on Fridays. Hazer is a former Panther football player. Then Dr. Mary Clark will be available for treating injuries on Wednesdays. X-ray equipment and lab facilities are available in the Stadium.

Injuries that require more than the immediate treatment will be referred to a staff which is capable of handling every major medical and surgical specialty at Presbyterian-University Hospital which is located across the street from the Stadium.

1974 Outlook:
What Now for an Encore

He is, by his own admission, an optimist. But first, and more importantly, Johnny Majors is a realist. And that's exactly the approach he's taking for the upcoming Pitt football season.

"From our Spring drills I have a good feeling of optimism and enthusiasm," Majors says, "but I'm more realistic than some of our alumni who seem to feel all we need to do to better last year's record is just show up.

"I'm confident we'll have a better team than last year but this doesn't mean we'll have a better record. We've got to be realistic about this Pitt situation. We had a good Spring practice but if things don't fall into place this Fall we could have a tough time beating last year's record. It's going to be touch and go."

If all this sounds like traditional coaching poblum, consider Pitt and Majors' problem.

For the first time in over a decade, preseason magazines are ranking Pitt in the Top Twenty and they're saying wondrous and marvelous things about Majors and the Panthers. So marvelous, in fact, that Pitt fans are believing them and already counting the wins — on two hands — and making bowl reservations.

It's enough to make any self-respecting coach blow his whistle — if not his top. Especially a realistic coach. And more especially, a Johnny Majors.

But that's the price Majors and his Panthers will have to pay for last year's Cinderella season. It's going to be a pretty tough act to follow with the nation's football fans all watching closely to see what Pitt will do for an encore.

The 'MAJOR Change,' Act I, last season featured the following: Pitt's first bowl appearance in 17 years (Fiesta Bowl), the first winning team in 11 years (6-4-1 regular season), Coach-of-the-Year honors to Majors, the first freshman All-America in 29 years (Tony Dorsett), title of the Cinderella team of the country as the NCAA's Most Improved Squad (from 1-10 the previous year), and reams of national recognition.

Yes, 1973 was a very good year for Pitt football. But it is now 1974 and there are other mountains to be climbed and new goals to achieve.

"We have to continue to grow and not be self-satisfied or rest on our laurels," Majors warns. "You know it's always tougher to reach that second plateau. We surprised some people last year, but they'll be ready for us this season. We can't let up."

Majors will build his second Pitt squad around a corps of 33 returning lettermen, including 15 regulars from last year's Fiesta Bowl team. The losses through graduation, however, were not minor.

"We have to replace some fine athletes and some intangible leadership qualities," he notes. "We'll be looking for some leaders this Fall."

Graduation particularly hit hard at the offensive line where Pitt must replace two regulars at tackle, a guard and a tight end. Defensively, the Panthers lost a starting tackle, an end and a linebacker.

Majors has listed four areas of particular concern going into Fall drills: (1) offensive line, (2) receivers, (3) kicking game return area, and (4) a stronger schedule.

Although replacements must be found for seven regulars, Pitt does return starters in all the skilled positions — quarterback, running backs, receivers and defensive backs.

Leading the charge on offense is 1973's most electrifying back — freshman sensation Tony (T.D.) Dorsett. All T.D. did was explode for 1,586 yards (regular season) and 12 touchdowns en route to winning consensus first-team All-America honors, the first freshman to do so in 29 years. He became the leading freshman rusher in the history of major college football and Pitt's first ever 1,000-yards plus runner. He is the nation's leading returning rusher for 1974.

"Tony has great speed and natural instincts, and is certainly the finest back I've ever coached," Majors says. "But he's also more than just a runner. He's a complete football player who's an excellent blocker."

Besides Dorsett, Pitt returns the remainder of its starting 1973 backfield – Bill Daniels (Sr., 6-0, 180) at quarterback, Dave Janasek (Sr., 6-1, 210) at fullback and Bruce Murphy (Sr., 5-11, 170) at wingback.

Overall, the offensive backfield appears to be Pitt's strongest suit with experience, depth, speed and ability. The quarterback spot, in particular, looks strong.

Daniels is expected to be one of the East's top quarterbacks after a junior season that saw him pass for 1,170 yards and rush for another 440. Bob Medwid (Sr., 6-2, 190), a regular two seasons ago, returns to battle Daniels after sitting out last season with a knee injury. A third candidate emerged during Spring drills when Robert Haygood had a spectacular spring game by rushing for 174 yards.

"Our quarterbacking looked strong in the Spring," Majors admits. "I can't say enough for the job Daniels did last year. He's a very fine football player who thinks quickly on the field."

At fullback, Janasek is called by Majors as "the finest blocking fullback I've ever coached." He was invaluable last season in leading Dorsett wide on the option series, and he also chipped in with a 4.7 yards per carry average. The speedster Murphy led all Pitt receivers with 20 receptions for 325 yards, plus picking up 101 yards rushing on inside reverses.

With the offensive weapons returning, it is up front that has Majors worried. There the Panthers return only Mike Carey (Jr., 6-3, 230) at center, Reynold Stoner (Sr., 6-3, 230) at guard, and Todd Toerper (Sr., 6-3, 185) at split end.

"Our offensive line needs a lot of work," Majors says bluntly. "We're not near where we need to be. And our receivers are still suspect. Toerper has good hands, but we're going to need some help from our incoming players."

Defensively, Pitt returns eight of 11 players. Anchoring the defensive front is All-American candidate Gary Burley (Sr., 6-3, 255) at middle guard. Although hampered by an ankle injury most of last season, Burley was a one-man wrecking gang in Pitt's vastly improved defense.

"Gary is the most outstanding lineman I've ever coached," says Majors. "He will be, I think, one of the finest linemen in the country. He has exceptional quickness and reaction for a big man."

Bill Daniels is one of the East's top quarterbacks.

Returning with Burley up front in Pitt's 5-3 defensive alignment are part-time starters at tackle Dave Jancisin (Sr., 6-5, 240) and Don Parrish (So., 6-4, 245), and defensive end Tom Perko (Jr., 6-4, 230).

Two of three starters are back at linebacker and the entire defensive backfield returns intact. Returning linebackers are Mike Bulino (Sr., 6-0, 195) and Kelcy Daviston (Sr., 6-3, 220), plus part-time starters Arnie Weatherington (So., 6-0, 202) and Cecil Johnson (So., 6-2, 220).

The veteran secondary shows Dennis Moorhead (Jr., 6-1, 195) at safety, and Glenn Hodge (Sr., 6-1, 175) and David Spates (Sr., 6-0, 168) at the corners.

Defensively, the potential appears to be there, but the Pitt coaches are concerned with a depth problem, and will be looking for backup personnel when Fall drills open.

A former punter himself, Majors believes in the kicking game. He calls it "the hidden yardage in football," and last season he spent considerable time on this area. The Panthers responded by being one of the top kick coverage teams in the nation. But Majors was not happy with the kick return game, and this area will draw considerable interest at Fall camp.

The kicking itself should be excellent. Last year freshman kicker Carson Long set two new Pitt records en route to eight field goals, including boots of 50, 49, and 47 yards. Another freshman, Larry Swider, handled the punting game well with a 36.9 average.

When it's all said and done, the potential is there for a much stronger Pitt team than the one that captured the nation's fancy last year. But the schedule is also tougher – much tougher – and that makes it anyone's guess what the record will be.

Not guessing, however, is Majors. He's just cautious – and realistic.

"It's an exciting schedule, but also a tough one," he says. "We have some tough back-to-back games that concern me, and we could be playing three or four of the Top Ten teams. But I'm enthusiastic and looking forward to the challenge. We'll have some fun."

Spring Game

The most entertaining and exciting Spring football game in recent Pitt history found the Gold team a 31-19 winner after trailing the Blue squad 19-18 at the end of the third quarter. The Gold squad was coached by KDKA-TV personality Bill Currie while the Blues were led by WTAE-Radio and TV commentator Myron Cope.

Sophomore quarterback Robert Haygood, switched to that position only five days earlier, rushed for 174 yards and passed for 22 yards from the option formation. His spectacular 33-yard run for a touchdown gave Copes' squad a brief lead. Haygood's teammate, sophomore Greg McCray, rushed 10 times for 93 yards and a touchdown. Veteran quarterback Bill Daniels, led the Gold attack. The returning quarterback starter completed 10 of 13 passes for 235 yards and one touchdown. He ran for two more short scores.

Offensive linemen and pass receivers remained Majors' chief concern following the Spring game.

A Look at the Cinderella Season

Pitt vs. Georgia

Sept. 15, 1973 - Attendance: 52,500

Pitt's junior defensive end Jim Bucknun described the 7-7 tie with Georgia best: "It's a new start." he said after the "quiet." After Pitt held the Bulldogs on the first set of downs, the Panthers drove 62 yards in 11 plays to take a 7-0 lead as quarterback Billy Daniels scored on the option play.

Georgia scored its touchdown three passes sons later as the Bulldog quarterback Andy Johnson scored. Pitt countered - Georgia 226-174, and passed the Bulldogs 60-56.

Tony Dorsett, playing in his first collegiate game, rushed for 101 yards on 26 carries.

The Panthers missed a 33-yard field goal with 3:10 to go in the game, and so missed an opportunity for an even greater upset.

SCORING SEQUENCE:

Period	Time	Play
1	6:09	TD: Daniels, 17 yard rush; Long kick
2	0:44	TD: Johnson, 4 yard rush; Leamon kick (G)

SCORE BY QUARTERS:

Pitt	7	0	0	0	7
Georgia	0	7	0	0	7

Pitt vs. Baylor

Sept. 22, 1973 - Attendance: 28,232

Tony Dorsett gave Pitt followers a taste of what to expect of him the next four years against Baylor, and it was a good sampling. Bursting off tackle, Dorsett streaked for 32 yards and his first collegiate touchdown. But, it was not enough to turn a 20-14 loss.

The Bears effectively penetrated the Pitt rushing defense for 323 yards and only passed five times for 68 yards. There was a catch however, as Gary Burley, who had played an exceptional game against Georgia, sat out the game with a bad ankle.

Despite the Baylor rushing dominance, the Panthers were in the ballgame until the final gun, as they fired and moved on a last minute onside kick. Bill Daniels made it close late in the fourth quarter by hitting flanker Rodney Clark with a 22-yard scoring arrial.

SCORING SEQUENCE:

Pitt vs. Northwestern

Sept. 29, 1973 - Attendance: 24,462

Against Northwestern, Tony Dorsett began his ferocious assault on the NCAA and Pitt record books. He rushed for an astronomical 265 yards, including scoring sprints of 8 and 79 yards.

That broke the single game all-time freshman rushing mark and earned him AP, UPI, and Sports Illustrated Back of the Week honors. But most importantly, his 79 yard run stroked the Panthers in Pitt's first win (21-14) under Johnny Majors.

The Cats had taken an early 7-0 lead on a one yard sneak by Daniels and after Wildcat quarterback Mitch Anderson passed 20 yards to tie the score, Dorsett put Pitt ahead with his first TD.

Anderson's 20 yard run tied the score again in the second quarter, which set the stage for Dorsett's clincher.

With the wind and rain pouring in from Lake Michigan, the 1973 Pitt football team grew up in a hurry and Tony Dorsett became Tony "Dr" Dorsett.

Pitt vs. Tulane

Oct. 6, 1973 - Attendance: 25,054

Despite slamming the statistical door in powerful Tulane's face, the Panthers committed two critical defensive lapses - allowing touchdown passes of 41 and 55 yards - and bowed to the Green Wave 24-6. The final score did not really indicate the game that was played.

Majors' squad had more first downs, rushed and passed for more yardage, and gained 30 more yards offensively than Tulane, but the youthful mistakes proved too much to overcome. And, the Cats had to play without Tony Dorsett.

After gaining 59 yards in his first three carries, Dorsett was hit hard and injured his back. He was ineffective the rest of the day. Bill Daniels gave his first indication in the game that he could throw the ball. He completed 11 of 24 tosses and hit three different receivers - flanker Todd Tooper, right end Stan Ostrowski, and wingback Bruce Mullahy - three times each.

In the end, however, the loss of four fumbles, three interceptions, and at least a half dozen dropped passes told the story.

SCORING SEQUENCE:

Pitt vs. West Virginia

Oct. 13, 1973 - Attendance: 37,000

Following the Tulane disappointment, Johnny Majors had his "Children's Crusade" sky high for arch-rival West Virginia. And the Panthers responded by pulling their first big upset of the season. For the first time, the Cats put together a formidable offense and a stubborn, pinching defense.

Tailback Tony Dorsett and quarterback Bill Daniels teamed up for all five touchdowns of ferocity, and linebacker Rod Kirby, monster man Mike Bolino, and middle guard Gary Burley choked off the potent Mountaineer offense.

Daniels was deadly with the option, particularly in the first half. He sneaked TD runs of ten and two yards. But in the second half it was all Dorsett.

Slipping Tony broke a 35-yard scoring run early in the second half, as well as tabulating two 12-yard scores in the fourth quarter. He ran for 153 total yards on 24 rushes at Morgantown and was named to the UPI Backfield-of-the-Week for the second time.

Pitt vs. Boston College

Oct. 20, 1973 - Attendance: 23,219

For the second week in a row, the Panthers completely dominated the opposition. Once again it was the "D Boys" - Daniels and Dorsett - on offense and everybody on defense.

Daniels and Dorsett both copped a score in each half and fullback Dave Janiello had his best day with 65 yards, completing the offensive show. Dorsett ran for 109 yards, despite being used basically as a decoy because of an injury. His two TDs gave him eight for the season - they were spurts of one and 11 yards.

Offensively, Boston College spent the majority of the game in their own end of the field. In fact, they only entered Pitt territory three times. Linebacker Rod Kirby was a standout.

Teamed with Gary Burley and the rest of the defensive line, Glenn Hyde led the way in shutting off versatile Tony Esposito and quarterback Gary Marangi. The only scores against Pitt, came on a free-kicker and on a 28-yard pass - Marangi to Bob Watts - in the warming moments.

It was the first two game winning streak for a Pitt team in three years and paved the way for the first winning season in a decade.

Pitt vs. Navy

Oct. 27, 1973 - Attendance: 33,136

If there was any doubt as to what the Pitt Panthers were made of in 1973, the Navy game wiped it out. It was a crucial game, one which would dictate further team aspirations. The team's character put itself on display, particularly in the person of freshman placekicker Carson Long.

Highly touted yet quiet for the first six games, Long kicked field goals of 47, 30, and 49 yards - all in the first half. Along with Tony "T.D." Dorsett's one-yard scoring dive, the Panthers accumulated a 16-0 halftime lead.

But it wasn't until 3:05 left in the game that the Cats showed their stuff. Brought back from defeat by quarterback Al Glenny, Navy had taken a 17-16 lead on a 33-yard Glenny to Smyth bomb. Majors and his team refused to quit, however.

On Daniel's arm and Dorsett's quick feet, the Cats were knocking on the door with time running out. Daniels finally ran it in from the three with 33 seconds left.

The Panthers had a three-game winning streak.

Pitt vs. Syracuse

Nov. 3, 1973 – Attendan[illegible]

The Pitt offense had a field day against Ben Schwartzwalder's last Syracuse team, combining for 576 total yards. The Panthers, out to insure at least the first 500 season in ten years, came within a yard of eclipsing their all-time offense record set against Duke in 1929.

Once again, it was Bill Daniels and Tony Dorsett doing most of the damage. Dorsett scooted for 211 yards on 27 carries – it was his second 200-yard game as well as going over the 100-yard plateau for the seventh time in eight games – giving him a total of 1,139 yards on the year. Tony became the first back in Pitt history to surpass the 1,000-yard mark in a season. Daniels had even a better day, the best day in his two-year career.

He rushed for 165 yards off the option play and completed nine of 16 passes for another 121 yards.

The win also gave Johnny Majors' first Pitt team a modest four game winning streak.

Pitt vs. Notre Dame

Nov. 10, 1973 – Attendance: 56,590

This was the day Tony Dorsett became an All-American. Against the best rushing defense in the country at the time, Dorsett scampered for a phenomenal 209 yards.

The rest of the Pitt offense was bogged down however, as the snow and slippery footing caused numerous crucial turnovers. Still, Johnny Majors had his team within winning range as the fourth quarter approached, trailing 17-10.

Fullback Dave Janasek scored on a one-yard plunge and freshman Carson Long kicked a 35-yard field goal as the first half ended. Long also broke the Pitt PAT record in the game, kicking his 109th – the record was previously held by Dick Booth (1923).

Wayne Bullock, the powerful Irish fullback, offset those fine performances by rushing for four touchdowns to insure the Notre Dame win. The Irish wrapped it up with a last minute TD pass.

Pitt vs. Army

Nov. 17, 1973 – Attendance: 33,264

Winless Army was no match for Pitt. Taking their first Bowl bid in 17 years the Panthers manhandled the Cadets 34-0, while not playing their best ball of the season.

Bill Daniels took to the air, not running the option as much as in previous games. Daniels completed eight of 13 passes for 172 yards and one touchdown, a 42-yard bomb to flanker Rodney Clark. He also set up another score with a pass to wingback Bruce Murphy and Dorsett raced for 161 yards on 30 carries.

The effort put Dorsett over the 1,000-yard mark – as a freshman. With this performance, Dorsett surpassed Roosevelt Leaks (Texas) to become the second leading rusher in the nation. Dorsett's scores of seven and one yards, Clark's touchdown, and Carson Long's two field goals (31 and 28 yards) completed the offensive scoring, while cornerback David Spates put another touchdown on the board returning an interception 86 yards.

Defensively, linebacker Kelcy Daviston led the charge in registering the first Pitt shutout since the 54-0 whitewashing of West Virginia in 1964.

The Panthers accepted the Fiesta Bowl bid following the game.

Pitt vs. Penn State

Nov. 24, 1973 – Attendance: 56,600

With their first winning season since 1963 in their hip pocket, the Pitt Panthers traveled to State College with an upset in mind of the nation's sixth-ranked team. For 30 minutes they did the job, leading Penn State 13-3. But the Lions, powerful and proud, came out with vengeance in the final stanza to take a 35-13 win.

On a 14-yard scoring burst by Tony Dorsett and two Carson Long field goals, the Panthers actually led going into the fourth quarter, 13-11. But John Cappaletti put Joe Paterno's team ahead to stay with a six-yard run, and an interception and a TD pass won it for the Lions.

Partially hampered by poor weather conditions, the Pitt offense could not move the ball in the second half and Dorsett was held below 100 yards for only the second time all year. He ran for 77. Later in the fourth quarter, however, the Pitt defense put on the show of the year, keeping Penn State out of the end zone six times from inside the two-yard line, Cappaletti carrying three of those plays.

Pitt vs. Arizona State

(Fiesta Bowl)
Dec. 21, 1973 – Attendance: 50,878

Pitt made its first Bowl appearance in 17 years, matched against nationally-ranked and explosive Arizona State, winners of the Western Athletic Conference championship with a 10-1 record.

The game pitted two All-American halfbacks – Pitt's Tony Dorsett and Arizona State's Woody Green. The statistics were fairly even but Green got the edge with 131 yards rushing and three touchdowns, while Dorsett checked in with 100 yards rushing and one TD.

Pitt took an early 7-0 lead on a two-yard Dorsett run, but Green returned the favor minutes later and the teams went to the locker room tied at 7-7. In the second half, the ASU defense totally shut off the Pitt attack, and the Sun Devil offense put the game away with 18 points in the fourth quarter.

But the Fiesta Bowl loss, notwithstanding, there had been a Major Change in Pitt Football.

Pitt Stadium-Home of the Panthers

When Johnny Majors took the head football coaching job at Pitt, he noted that the University had three major ingredients to help produce a winning program — an outstanding schedule, a strong winning tradition, and a large stadium.

With a seating capacity of 56,500, Pitt Stadium is generally considered one of the finest spectator viewing stadiums in the East. Every seat in the oval shaped stadium is a good one for viewing football.

The interior of the 50-year-old bowl is now painted bright blue and gold, contrasting with the dark green Astro-Turf playing surface and the red-brick colored 440-yard all-weather Tartan track. This past summer, seven sections of gold aluminum seating were installed, adding comfort and brightness to give Pitt Stadium an eye-catching appearance.

Opened in 1925 at a cost of $2,125,000, the stadium originally seated 67,000. Various seats were taken out to provide better access to all of the seats. The stadium plant itself encompasses 10 acres with an outer circumference of one-half mile. Besides the football field, facilities include a band room, a 440-yard track, dressing rooms, and a reception room.

The first game was played in 1925 when Pitt defeated Washington & Lee, 28-0. During the next four seasons, the Panthers played 30 of their 34 games in the stadium. The single-game attendance record was set in 1938 when 68,918 fans jammed every corner of the stadium to see Pitt top Fordham, 24-13. The one-season attendance record was set in 1956 when 239,718 people watched the Panthers in five games. The average game attendance of 47,944 is also a stadium record.

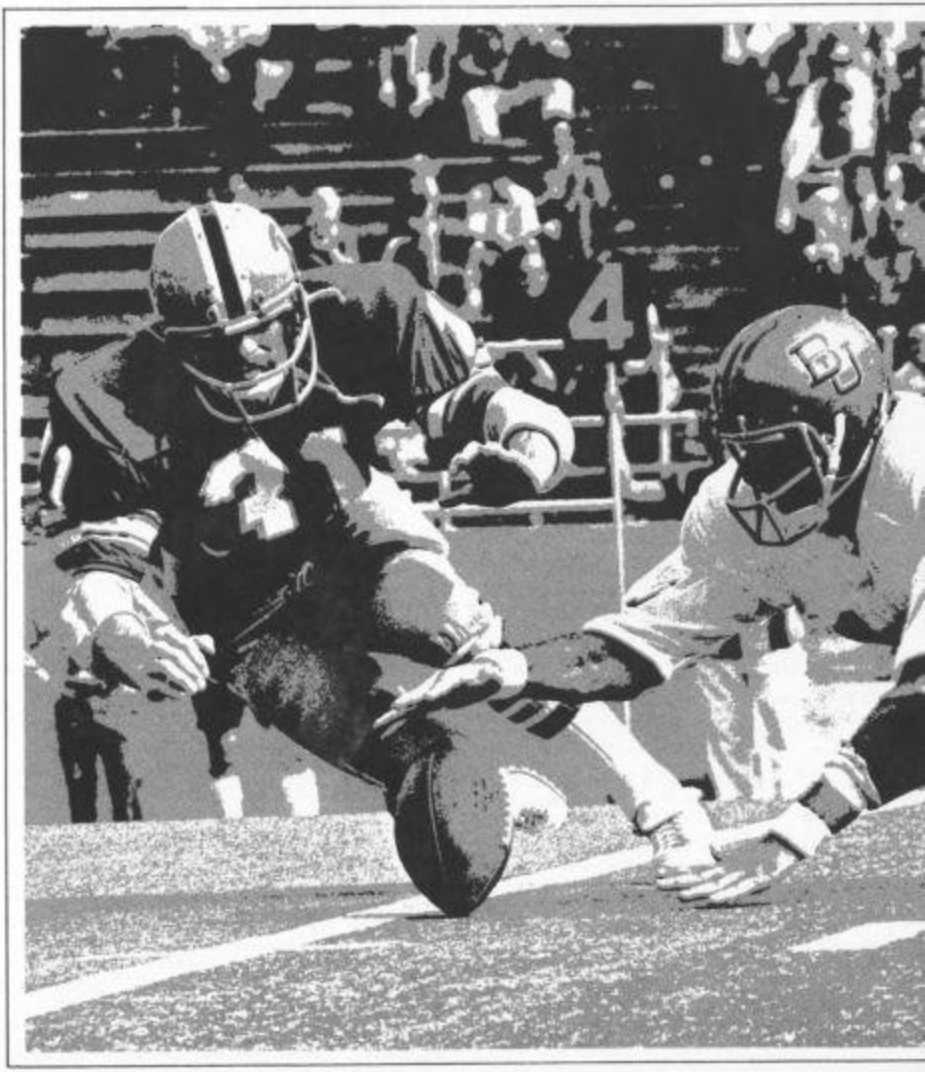
Pitt Profiles



All-America Candidate

GARY BURLEY* Middle Guard Sr., 6-3, 255 Grove City, Ohio

A definite All-America candidate who proved last season he could play for any team in the country . . . Majors calls him "the best big man I've ever coached" . . . named to a number of pre-season All-American teams . . . with all his size and strength, speed (4.6 in the 40) and quickness are still his greatest assets . . . came to Pitt as one of the most sought-after linemen in the country, and immediately showed why in the first game against Georgia. In that game he controlled the line of scrimmage against the Bulldogs and led Pitt to a 7-7 upset tie . . . he hurt his ankle late in that game and missed the next two contests . . . he returned against Tulane and was credited with 12 tackles despite playing at about only 65% efficiency . . . despite double and triple teaming he amassed 11, 8 and 10 tackles against Navy, Syracuse and Notre Dame respectively . . . closed very strongly with outstanding performances against Penn State and Arizona State in the Fiesta Bowl . . . missed Spring drills to undergo surgery on his ankle, but is expected at full strength this Fall . . . following graduation from Grove City High, he attended Wharton Jr. College (Texas) where he was a two-time JC All-American . . . was selected by Gridiron Magazine as the Outstanding Lineman in Junior College ball, and was selected by opposing coaches as the best JC lineman to come out of Texas in the last 10 years . . . married, and his wife's name is Tina . . . studying Physical Education.

The following is a condensed version of a paper written by Gary Burley for one of his English classes at Pitt. We thought you might enjoy it because it tells you something about Gary Burley, the person.

By GARY BURLEY

Who am I?

I could tell you my name and someone else could tell you my name, but if all they told you was my name and you had a crowd of people to choose from, you wouldn't know who I was unless you had a description.

So, I'll describe myself, because who else could give you a better description of myself than myself, anyway?

To start the ball rolling, I'm BIG and BLACK — ten years ago those might have been fighting words. I'm 6-3, 255 pounds. I wear a short fro for the same reason everyone else wears a short fro — it won't grow no more. I also have thick lips and a flat nose.

One feature that stands out are my 'pretty' eyes. My mother told me that. I'm not the best person in the world, but I'm not the worst either. I don't make friends very easily, but when I do, they are friends I can trust. Some people say that I can be rude and egotistical at times, but that doesn't count because this is a self description.

I've suffered enough myself not to be the cause of anyone else's pain. I'm not the type that will hurt people purposely. I do have a self pride that stands out. But that's being me and I'm proud to be me. With all the hangups and letdowns in the world today, I'm content to be just me.

In class, we talk about the Black man not being free, but I'm as close to being free as I'll ever be. And if I'm not free, I don't want to know what freedom is, because I've been missing it so long.

They say freedom is like honey — if you ever get to taste it you know how sweet it can be. If you don't get to taste it, you don't know what you're missing cause you never tasted it in the first place.

I'm a wild young man who likes to have fun and will do whatever it takes for me to have fun. But I'm not the type that will do anything stupid I might regret later on.

Hey, I'm somebody!

Even if nobody else knows it or cares to know it, I know it and I care. I'm not content to staying where I'm at. I want to keep moving higher and higher.

To sum up the question that I began answering two pages ago, where anyone with normal intelligence could look at the words and know who I am, I'll say that I'm a normal Black man who is not letting life push him around.

I'll tell you who I am in a series of flashes: Black, proud, distinctive, progressive, mobile, agile, hostile (only in certain circumstances).

I'm my own person and I want all I can get out of life. And I want to be happy while I'm getting it. Put all this together with the 6-3, 255 pounds and you will know who I am.

Quite naturally, I am Gary Burley. Me.

What is my gift to the world? Well actually, I think I have two or three. First of all, I have my sense of humor, which I think is my best asset. In a world like the one we live in, laughter and the ability to make others laugh, I think, is in itself a gift.

If you are truly happy, you won't have time to be sad. Mainly because you're having too much fun.

Secondly, my ability to understand other people is a gift.

For instance, it's nothing for me to meet a person on Monday and know their life story by Wednesday. It is harder for me to understand men because we lie so much. It's hard to figure out when we are lying or telling the truth.

My third gift is my athletic ability. Most people think Black people have a lot of athletic ability. It's not that we have so much, but we know how to use it.

My athletic ability is my greatest gift that I have to offer the world.

Whether the world will accept it or not remains to be seen, but it has got me this far and I have no complaints.

That's who I am and those are my gifts to the world.

All-America Halfback

Tony (T.D.) Dorsett A-A Running Back So., 5-11, 175 Aliquippa, Pa.

They said he would be a great one some day, but no one dared to predict the instant success that Pitt running back Tony Dorsett achieved . . . earned a first-team spot on the first day of scrimmaging . . . became the greatest freshman running back in major college history (1,586 yards) . . . became first frosh consensus All-American in 29 years, and led Pitt back to prominence with a 6-4-1 regular record and a Fiesta Bowl appearance . . . after only one season of competition (including the bowl game), Tony has gained 1,686 yards and needs just 272 yards to become the Pitt career rushing leader . . . he has three years to go as he enters the '74 season as the nation's leading returning rusher . . . Dorsett's promise and potential were obvious in his high school career – he made nearly all the prep All-American teams (Scholastic, Parade, Coach & Athlete) . . . rushed for 1,034 yards and 19 TDs as a junior and 1,238 and 23 TDs as a senior (total 2,272) . . . was named Pa. Big 33, AP, and UPI All-State, second team All-State as a defensive back, MVP in the Midwestern Athletic Conference for two years and All-WPIAL for two years . . . speed and quickness are his strength . . . gained 265 yards (most ever for a frosh) against Northwestern in Pitt's first "MAJOR Change" win . . . dashed for 211 yards against Syracuse . . . rushed for 209 yards – the most ever against a Notre Dame team . . . in the off-season, he added five pounds to his upper shoulder strength in order to face another set of challenges in '74 . . . must continually live up to an unbelievable frosh reputation . . . already has been selected to most of the top pre-season All-American teams and picked to repeat as an All-American this year . . . now entering Phase II of the "MAJOR Change" in Pitt football . . . armed with confidence, additional strength, and an ever-improving supporting cast.

Kelcy Daviston* Linebacker Sr., 6-3, 220 Duquesne, Pa.

Walked right out of the classroom and into a starting berth at outside linebacker last year . . . helped bolster a position which had been considered questionable before opening of season . . . had amazing first two games before an ankle injury forced him to miss three games . . . opened the season with 11 tackles at Georgia and an almost unbelievable 25 against Baylor (10 solo, 15 assists) . . . came back strong after injury with 14 tackles against Navy and 11 vs. Syracuse . . . underwent post-season surgery on his ankle and is expected back at full strength this fall . . . is being counted on by Majors to provide the team with senior leadership . . . originally enrolled at Arizona State after an outstanding senior year at Duquesne High, but two deaths in his family brought him home . . . enrolled in night classes at Pitt and when Majors was named head coach, Kelcy reported to spring drills and won a position . . . a massive muscular structure . . . along with his tackling ability, is quite quick against the pass . . . was selected to Pennsylvania Big 33 game, All-WPIAL, All-State and All-Conference at Duquesne . . . Nicknamed 'KD' and 'Werewolf' . . . Liberal Arts.

Robert Haygood* Quarterback So., 6-0, 181 East Point, Ga.

Another of Majors' fine freshmen recruits, Robert stepped right in and returned kickoffs and punts in his very first game at Pitt . . . along with returning kicks, he has seen plenty of practice time at wide receiver, wingback and quarterback . . . in view of his performance in the spring game, could very well be the quarterback of the future at Pitt . . . gained 184 yards on 20 carries in the Blue-Gold game in a 31-19 losing cause . . . his quick feet and speed are a big asset for the Pitt option offense . . . injured a leg in midseason and missed the latter part of the year, but had the longest kickoff return of the year – 28 yards against Georgia . . . still needs work at quarterback, particularly in his throwing, but coaches feel they must find position for him because of his raw talent . . . averaged 18 points a game on Pitt JV basketball team after football season . . . holds distinction few college athletes have ever enjoyed: traveled as a freshman to football Bowl game and NCAA tournament in basketball in one year . . . at Russell High School he earned a long list of athletic honors: Outstanding Player of Region, three times All-City, five times Player-of-the-Month, honorable mention All-State twice, All-Metro in football and three times All-City, two-time All-State and State MVP in basketball . . . plans to study Business.

Glenn Hodge Def. Back Sr., 6-1, 175 Youngstown, Ohio
Proved he could handle himself in Pitt secondary last year after patiently waiting for his chance in mid-season and taking a starting berth at the left half slot . . . will battle for job again if he can stay away from injuries which bugged him as a sophomore . . . he is sleek and has great speed . . . is an excellent tackler . . . at Ursuline High he was named to the All-Steel Valley, All-Diocese teams and captained his team . . . likes to work woodcraft as a hobby . . . Economics.

Melvin Howard Tailback/Wingback So., 5-8, 175 Warner Robins, Ga.
Tiny but potentially explosive, Melvin could help in the backfield if things pan out . . . transferred from Texas A&M and sat out last year though he practiced with the team . . . could battle for regular starting position . . . was voted best back in Georgia two years ago and made All-State honors twice out of Werner Robins High School . . . also named All-City twice . . . nicknamed 'Punch' . . . studying Education.

Dave Janasek Fullback Sr., 6-1, 210 Lyndhurst, Ohio
To a large degree was responsible for the success of the Pitt option last fall with his unselfish blocking for Dorsett and Daniels . . . you could count on one hand times he came up empty handed on blocking assignment . . . also a determined downfield blocker . . . ran the ball well enough to keep defense honest . . . recorded 292 yards on 61 carries (4.7) and scored two TD's . . . caught three passes for 29 yards . . . played with a minor, but painful, bone break in his right wrist . . . had surgery performed in off season and missed spring drills . . . had two best efforts against Syracuse (74 yards on 10 carries, one TD) and Boston College (46 yards on 7 carries) . . . at Gilmour Academy he was All-State and All-Scholastic . . . teammate of Eric Pennick at Gilmour . . . also a top student with over 3.0 QPA . . . Majors has said that he "would go to war with Janasek" . . . hobbies are golf and music . . . Economics.

six tackles at Boston College . . . at West Mifflin High School he was All-WPIAL, All-Conference, and MVP in the 5 Boros . . . also threw the shot put and led the basketball team in rebounding . . . was selected as the school's 'Mr. Athlete' . . . hobbies include weight lifting, fishing and softball . . . Economics.

Cecil Johnson* Linebacker So., 6-2, 220 Miami, Fla.
Another freshman from Miami who made good . . . played both on the defensive line and at nose guard last fall, but has been moved to linebacker to bolster that corps . . . could start at that position this fall . . . is a fine athlete who has good speed and quickness as well as good pursuit . . . was an all-around performer at Miami Jackson . . . Liberal Arts.

Ed Kucharik Off. Tackle Jr., 6-6, 240 Lorain, Ohio
With a 15-pound weight gain, Ed figures to help the Pitt offensive line this year . . . now big enough and strong enough to handle blocking chores . . . saw some action last year and showed steady improvement . . . at Clearview High School in Lorain, he was All-Conference, All-Northeast Ohio and was selected to the second-team All-State . . . could step in and help fill shoes of graduated Ray Olsen . . . Economics.

Theo Lawrence Off. Tackle Jr., 6-6, 230 Clarion, Pa.
Like Kucharik, another wiry giant who could win a starting job on the offensive line . . . at 6-6, 220 he also needed to put on some weight and added ten pounds for spring drills . . . will battle John Hanhauser, Joe Stone and Lou Vocatura for offensive tackle post . . . has some big shoes to fill from the loss of Dave Blandino and Dave Wannstedt . . . at Clarion Area High School he was named to the All-Conference team . . . lettered twice in football and basketball at Clarion . . . is studying Liberal Arts.

Carson Long* Kicker So., 6-0, 205 Ashland, Pa.
Surfaced as one of the best young kickers in the nation last year with his eight field goals and 24 PATs . . . added a kicking dimension to the Panther attack which had long been missing . . . after some early trouble, came on to set new Pitt records in both PATs and FGs . . . his 24 PATs broke Dick Booth's 1927 mark (18) and his eight field goals shattered Fred Cox's one-season mark of six set in 1961 . . . he also tied the record of most field goals in one game (3) set by Andy Gustafson in 1925 . . . could be Pitt's greatest all-time kicker by the time he graduates . . . he is in range of every Panther kicking mark: career PATs (44); career FG (13); total points one season (81 – Booth 1927); and total points career (255 – Hastings 1914-19) . . . his three fielders against Navy proved to be quite instrumental in the 22-17 win and his 31 and 50 yard field goals in the first half of the Penn State game boosted Pitt's lead to 13-3 at halftime . . . proved his long range with kicks of 50, 49, 47, 35, 31, 31, 30 and 28 yards . . . at North Schuylkill High School, he kicked 17 FG his last two years and set a Pa. State scholastic record with a 54-yard boot . . . named to the Pa. Big 33, All-Central Pa., All-County and National Football Foundation Scholar Athlete teams . . . was four-year letterman and captain of his team . . . at Pitt he is studying Liberal Arts and made the Dean's list during the football season with an even 3.0 QPA.

Greg McCray Fullback/Tailback So., 5-9, 190 Chicago, Ill.
A bruising runner on the junior varsity team as a freshman with good speed and quickness . . . his biggest asset is his brute strength though . . . broke several long runs and was the second leading runner on the JV squad . . . impressed coaches most with his strength and desire to work . . . is nicknamed 'Strong' for obvious reasons . . . can play both fullback and tailback . . . improved as much as any runner on the team this spring . . . according to coaches has the potential to definitely challenge for position on the varsity backfield this fall . . . was an outstanding performer at Martin Luther King High School in Chicago where he lettered in football, wrestling and track . . . was the greatest athlete ever to come out of Martin Luther High and had his number (40) retired upon graduation . . . scored 36 TDs in his career and was voted All-City three years running in both football and wrestling . . . ran for 240 yards in one game . . . Liberal Arts.

Bob Medwid Quarterback Sr., 6-2, 190 McKees Rocks, Pa.

Bob is back to challenge for the No. 1 quarterbacking job after giving up that slot because of a knee injury two springs ago . . . never fully recovered from knee injury so was able to receive a redshirt last fall . . . had shown leadership qualities, running ability and a strong arm, so will be a definite challenger for the field general job . . . is a good runner but has been hindered with the injury bug throughout his career . . . had an outstanding sophomore year before breaking his collarbone against Syracuse and two years ago shared the job with John Hogan despite nagging injuries . . . has worked hard all during his recuperating period and is fully confident he can return to his sophomore level . . . was the recruiting catch three years ago as the State's top quarterback . . . at Sto-Rox High School he was All-State, Pa. Big 33, All-WPIAL and conference MVP . . . another National Football Foundation Scholar athlete . . . plans to enter dentistry.

Dennis Moorhead* Safety Jr., 6-1, 195 Indiana, Pa.

From a very uneventful freshman year in 1972, Dennis came out of nowhere to immediately win the starting safety job upon Majors' arrival . . . a quiet individual, he lets his arduous weight work do the talking for him on the field . . . a brisk tackler with a good football mind . . . he tied for the team lead in interceptions with three and returned them for 104 yards, including an 80-yard return against West Virginia . . . keys defensive signals from his safety position and returned punts last year . . . with year's experience coaches are expecting another big season from him . . . at Indiana Area High he won three letters in both football and basketball . . . named to the All-County and All-State teams . . . Liberal Arts.

Bruce Murphy Wingback Sr., 5-11, 170 Struthers, Ohio

Called "one of the most exciting players in America" by Majors . . . Bruce earned that distinction by leading the 'Cinderella' Panthers in pass receiving last year and having the ability to add an extra dimension to the offense by running from his wingback slot successfully . . . he gained 101 yards on 19 rushes (5.3) but his greatest element was that of surprise – rushing against the grain when teams would key against Tony Dorsett . . . he made a smooth transition from running back two years ago to pass catching whiz this year . . . caught 20 passes for 325 yards and a highly respectable 16.2 par catch average . . . gathered in five catches in the Penn State game and scored twice against Boston College . . . all this while attaining a 3.5 QPA and the Dean's list . . . will be highly counted on in '74 . . . runs a 4.6 forty . . . at Struthers High he was All-State, All-NEO

Was of immediate help as a defensive lineman last year and seems to have a bright future ahead of him . . . has all it takes to be a superstar . . . is big, strong and quick . . . by mid-season shared the starting left tackle job and in nine games was responsible for 48 tackles . . . will challenge Dave Jancisin for full-time duty this fall . . . showed great poise for a freshman by subbing for Gary Burley at middle guard in the Baylor game . . . a very happy fellow, he always wears a smile . . . was considered possibly the finest scholastic lineman in the state of Florida when he signed with Pitt . . . at Amos P. Godby High School, won three letters in football and track and also captained both teams . . . was named All-State, All-Regional and All-Big Bends . . . nicknamed 'Baby', he likes hunting and dancing . . . Physical Education.

Tom Perko Def. End Jr., 6-4, 230 Steubenville, Ohio
Hard-nosed and wreckless, he was outstanding in the pass rush last year . . . teamed with Jim Buckmon to give Majors solid defensive end play, and was an integral part of the Pitt turnaround . . . a rangy athlete who will battle to keep starting job . . . had several fine games last year in which he had between five and eight unassisted tackles . . . could possibly be the best pass rusher on the team . . . should be a candidate for All-East honors . . . at Steubenville Central Catholic he was a member of the Ohio North-South All-Stars and was named All-Eastern District team while captaining his team as a senior . . . is very popular with teammates and is nicknamed 'Perk' . . . is majoring in Journalism and his 3.29 QPA last year was good enough for the Dean's list . . . enjoys watching movies.

Al Romano* MG, Linebacker So., 6-3, 220 Solvay, N.Y.
Proved a pleasant surprise to the coaches last fall as he filled in for Gary Burley at middle guard, both for breathers and when Burley was injured . . . was so impressive that he merits consideration behind Burley . . . could play at both linebacker and middle guard this fall . . . received baptismal of fire at Northwestern and saw plenty of action against hometown Syracuse . . . at Solvay High School, was named All-County, All-Upstate New York and All-State . . . is active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes . . . is studying Economics and plans to attend law school.

Curtis Smith

David Spates

Joe Stone

Reynold Stoner

Curtis Smith Fullback Jr., 6-0, 205 Brentwood, N.Y.
A very muscular and strong athlete who could provide some help at fullback . . . was somewhat rusty last year after sitting out a year to work on academics . . . used sparingly last fall, but had a good spring and could surprise this year . . . ran three times for nine yards (3.0 average) . . . has excellent speed and clocked a 6.2, 50-yard dash for Jim Banner's Pitt track team this past winter . . . at Brentwood High School he was selected to the All-County, All-State, and the All-Long Island teams . . . Panthers Have Varied Interests

Pitt has always been extremely proud of the record its athletes have attained following graduation. Pitt players on the 1974 squad are planning an interesting variety of careers as evidenced by the wide range of curricula majors.

Cinderella Panthers

Pitt's surprising 6-4-1 record last season earned it the title of the "Nation's Cinderella Team," according to National Collegiate Sports Services, the official statistical arm of the NCAA. Pitt headed the list of the season's most-improved majors, winning five more games than the previous season and losing six fewer, a gain of 5½ games.

The list:

College	1973	1972	Games Imprvd.
PITT	6-4-1	1-10-0	5½
Furman	7-4-0	2-9-0	5
N. Texas State	5-5-1	1-10-0	4½
Colorado State	5-6-0	1-10-0	4
Brown	4-3-1	1-8-0	4
Arizona	8-3-0	4-7-0	4
Kansas	7-3-1	4-7-0	3½
Temple	9-1-0	5-4-0	3½
New Mexico State	5-6-0	2-9-0	3
Minnesota	7-4-0	4-7-0	3
South Carolina	7-4-0	4-7-0	3
Miami, O.	10-0-0	7-3-0	3
So. Mississippi	6-4-1	3-7-1	3
Houston	9-1-0	6-4-1	3

Football Film Available

"Pride and Enthusiasm," a 16 mm sound, color film capturing the story of the surprising 1973 Pitt Panthers, is available to members of the Pitt Golden Panthers for group showing.

The 28-minute film captures the highlights of 'The MAJOR Change in Pitt Football,' including a three-minute segment on freshman sensation Tony Dorsett and a special look at goal-line defensive play.

Copies of the film are available through the University's Audio-Visual Services at Hillman Library. If picked up at the Library, there is no charge. If mailing is necessary, a nominal $5 is charged for postage, handling and insurance.

Persons interested in securing the film should write: 1973 Pitt Football Film, Audio-Visual Services, University of Pittsburgh, Room G-20, Hillman Library, Pittsburgh, Pa. 15213.

Brochure for Sale

This 1974 media football brochure is available to the public on a limited basis for $1.50. Make check payable to University of Pittsburgh, and mail to Pitt Ticket Office, Box 7436, Pittsburgh, Pa. 15213.

Pitt Band

The University of Pittsburgh Varsity Marching Band enjoys an enviable reputation as one of the truly 'crack' college bands in the country. It has long been recognized for its precision marching and outstanding playing, marked by a unique style of fast cadence and extremely sharp knee lift and coordinated body, arm and instrument motion.

It is composed of 120 students from all schools and departments of the University. Each member of the Band devotes 4-6 hours per week to drilling and practicing throughout the football season, all strictly on a volunteer basis.

Donald E. Hower, an assistant professor in the Music Department and also director of the University Concert Band and Panther Band, is the Director of the Varsity Marching Band. Clayton Hartman is the announcer.

Fall Camp

Pitt will open fall football drills August 23rd at the Pitt-Johnstown campus.

Coach Majors will send the Panthers through two drills daily until the squad returns to Pittsburgh the evening of August 31st. The team will check into the Oakland campus dormitories August 19th, and the players will undergo physicals and class registration on the 20th and 21st. The 22nd will be devoted to Press Day, and later that evening the squad will bus to Johnstown.

The varsity and freshmen will drill separately in the morning, and then combine for the afternoon session.

Top Newcomers: FB Rudy Thomas, RB Steve Hecht, DB Joe Camps, NG Tony Falvo

Game Notes: This will be the third meeting between these two schools with Florida State holding a 2-0 edge . . . Darrell Murda, the Seminoles' new coach, has a history of turning losing programs into winners . . . and he'll have an opportunity to do that this year since Fla. State was 0-11 last year . . . "We'll be young and we'll be playing a lot of sophomores," he says, "but it would be a mistake for our opponents to take Florida State lightly. We have some potential superstars on this team. I think we'll be in the thick of things this fall." . . . sophomore back Rudy Thomas is called one of the Seminoles' most exciting runners in a long while . . . 11 of the returning 35 lettermen were freshmen last fall.

Top Newcomers: OT Marvin Powell, OG Donnie Hickman

Game Notes: This should be some matchup of two of the most exciting runners in America — All-Americans Anthony Davis of USC and Tony Dorsett of Pitt . . . Southern Cal has played in the Rose Bowl six of the last eight years, and this season should be no exception . . . coach John McKay says simply, "I see no reason why we shouldn't be better than last year. Our offense should be stronger, while our defense should be quicker and more experienced." That means trouble for all opponents . . . the Trojans feel they have four All-American candidates in quarterback Pat Haden, tailback Anthony Davis, split end Johnny McKay, and linebacker Richard Wood.

Top Linemen: OG Ken Huff, TE Charles Waddell, DT Ronnie Robinson, LB Jimmy DeRatt, DE Ted Elkins

Top Newcomers: OC Mark Cantrell, OT Tom Burkett, DB Ronnie Johnson

Game Notes: After winning two straight ACC championships and going to bowl games three years in a row, the Tar Heels slumped to a 4-7 record last fall . . . Carolina returns 11 starters from last year, six on defense and five on offense . . . the Tar Heels yielded an average of 24 points a game a year ago, so coach Dooley is looking for big improvement in this area . . . this meeting will mark the first ever between these two schools on the football field.

Game Notes: Pitt's 35-7 win last year at Morgantown was a turning point for the Panthers who used it as a start of a four-game winning streak . . . the Pitt-West Virginia rivalry dates back to 1895, and next to Penn State (1893), the Mountaineers are the Panthers' oldest opponent . . . flanker Danny Buggs is one of the premier receivers in the nation . . . he caught six passes for 82 yards in last year's game . . . Tony Dorsett, however, rushed for 150 yards and three TDs . . . W.Va. success this fall depends on finding good quarterbacks.

Game Notes: Navy made quite a turnaround last season under new coach George Welsh . . . they were more than competitive, something that has been missing in Academy football in recent years . . . in fact, they gave Pitt a big scare at the stadium last year before a last-minute drive won it for the Panthers . . . five of the last seven meetings between these two schools have been decided by five points or less . . . in last year's game, Pitt jumped off to a 16-0 halftime lead, only to see Navy battle back to take a 17-16 lead with 3:51 left. But Bill Daniels capped a long drive by scoring from the three with 33 seconds left.

Game Notes: Young (33) Frank Maloney makes his college head coaching debut this fall, taking over for Ben Schwartzwalder who guided the Orange for 25 years . . . he faces a big task, taking a Syracuse team that was the most scored upon Orange squad since the turn of the century and the lowest scoring team since 1948 . . . Syracuse, in fact, has lost 15 of 22 games since 1971 . . . but that didn't stop Maloney from predicting at his introduction to the press that "I don't see any reason why we can't go to a bowl next year." . . . although Pitt has never trailed in the overall series, the Panthers haven't won at Syracuse since 1960 . . . Pitt has played before two of the largest eight crowds in Archbold Stadium history . . . in last year's game Tony Dorsett rushed for 211 yards and Bill Daniels ran for 165 yards and passed for 121.

Game Notes: Duplicating an undefeated season and a national championship is the task facing Notre Dame this season . . . the Irish went 11-0 last year and capped it by defeating Alabama in the Sugar Bowl for the national title . . . although 33 lettermen return from that team, Coach Ara Parseghian is concerned with the kicking game, leadership and the possibility of complacency . . . Pitt has lost the last 10 encounters with Notre Dame and trails in the overall series, 27-11-1 . . . last year's game, however, was much closer than the final score indicated . . . it was 17-10 in the final period, but the Irish exploded for two fourth-quarter TDs to ice the win . . . in that game, Pitt's Tony Dorsett rushed for an all-time high against Notre Dame of 209 yards on 29 carries . . . Irish fullback Wayne Bullock countered with 167 yards.

Game Notes: Penn State overcame a 13-3 Pitt halftime lead and scored a 35-13 win last year at Beaver Stadium . . . it was the Lions' eighth straight win over Pitt and tied the all-time series at 35-35-3 . . . Penn State is the oldest opponent on the Panther schedule, the rivalry dating back to 1893 . . . Penn State has won 75 games, lost 13 and tied one in Joe Paterno's eight years as head coach . . . the Lions lost 13 starters from last year's undefeated team and Paterno calls this a "major rebuilding" job this season.

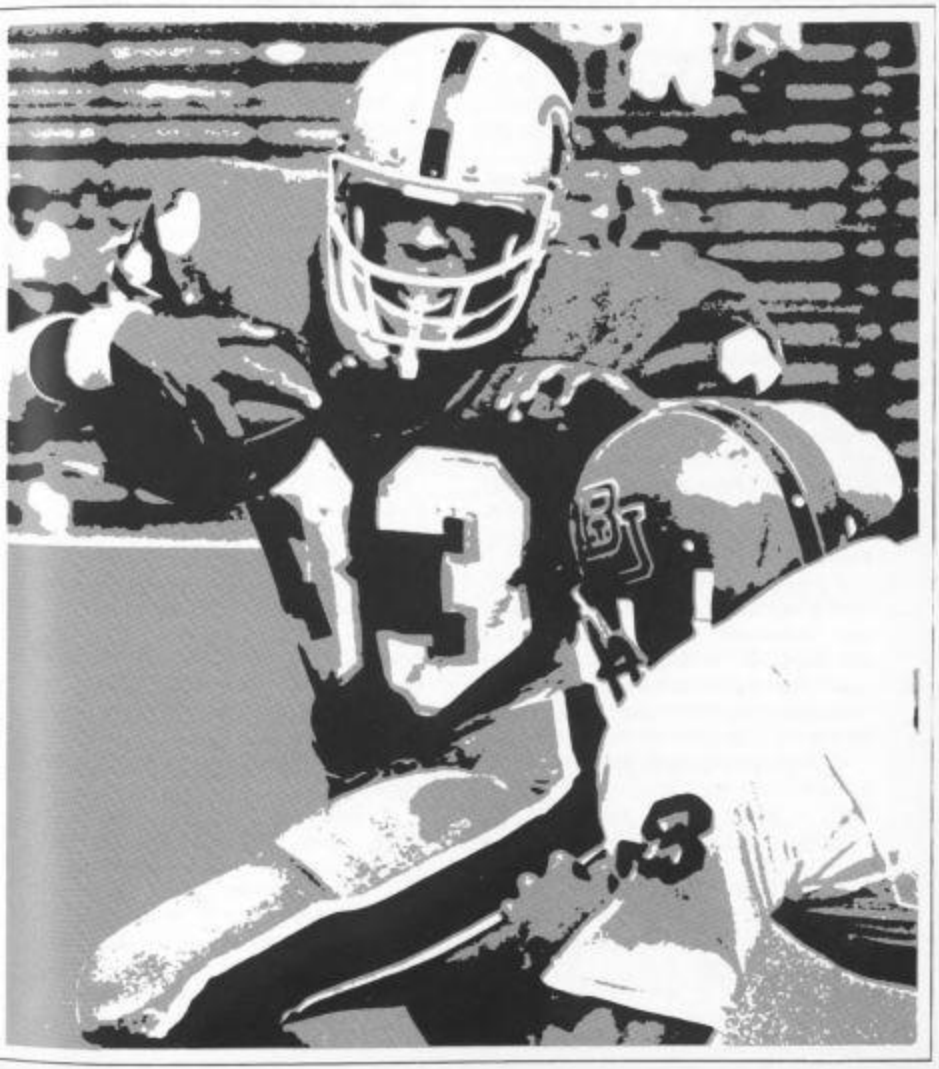
Pitt Records



Eighty-Four Years of Panthers

Pitt football began when the University was known as the Western University of Pennsylvania in 1890, but the Panthers did not begin their march into the front line powers for another decade.

In 1904 the Western University of Pennsylvania eleven, had its first winning streak. Sparking this team was Joe Thompson, of World War I fame.

He took over as coach after his graduation, and in 1910 turned out an undefeated, untied, and unscored on eleven.

In 1914 under Joe Duff, brother of the former U.S. Senator, the Panthers prepared for the event of Pop Warner, by losing only one game.

Not until mid-1919 did the Blue and Gold bow in intercollegiate competition. Thirty-two consecutive victories were recorded.

In 1916 Pitt team turned up with an innovation, for which millions of football fans have since given thanks. In addition to being undefeated, the Panthers, under Warner, were the first to wear numbers.

During this period the first All-American appeared. Bob Peck in 1915 and 1916, and rated as one of the great All-Time All-Americans at center, Tom Davies, at halfback and Leonard Hilty at tackle in 1918 were some of the stars of the era.

Famous then, and more famous later, were a big Scotch guard by the name of Jock Sutherland; the 1917 captain and end, Dr. H. C. Carlson, for 31 years head coach of basketball at his alma mater; and Tiny Thornhill, who went on to coach Stanford's Rose Bowl teams.

Perfect seasons were out after 1919, but they still were winning years. Herb Stein, a center, joined the list of All-Americans, and Harvey Harmon played a lot of tackle.

In 1924, Jock Sutherland began a 15 year regime, which started slowly but ended with the Panthers ensconced among the mighty.

Only 20 games were lost during this period, and another 11 were tied. Eastern titles came in 1925, 1927, 1929, 1931, 1932, 1934 and 1937. Four times the Panthers showed in the Rose Bowl, winning the final game in 1937 against Washington.

All-Americans during the period were Ralph Chase in 1925 at tackle, Gibby Welch at halfback in 1927, Mike Betto at tackle in 1928, Ray Montgomery at guard and Joe Donchess at end in 1929, Jess Quatse at tackle in 1931, Warren Heller at halfback in 1932, Joe Skladany at end in 1933, Doc Hartwig at guard and George Shotwell at center in 1934, Averell Daniell at tackle in 1936, Marshall Goldberg at halfback and Tony Matisi at tackle in 1937, and Goldberg and Bill Daddio at end in 1938.

On the All-American rolls since Sutherland were Ralph Fife in 1941, Bernie Barkouskie in 1949, and Joe Schmidt in 1952, all guards; Eldred Kraemer, a tackle in 1952, Joe Walton, a unanimous choice at end in 1956, guard John Guzik in 1958 and end Mike Ditka in 1960.

Sutherland left in 1938 and the Pitt power fell off for the next ten years. Charley Bowser was succeeded by Clark Shaughnessy who held sway during World War II. Wes Fesler brightened the picture in 1946, and was followed by Mike Milligan who turned in the first winning teams of a decade in both 1948 and 1949.

When Milligan resigned in 1950, Len Casanova came in to take over for that year, but left the following summer. In 1951 Athletic Director Tom Hamilton took over as head coach, and then in January of 1952 Lowell Dawson was named.

Dawson won six including Notre Dame, Army, Ohio, Indiana and Iowa among the victims, and lost three.

In 1954 ill health caused him to give up football coaching in mid-season, and Tom Hamilton took over as head coach and put the team on a winning basis.

After the season he stepped down to turn the team over to Johnny Michelosen.

A 7-3 record, featuring decisive upset wins over Duke at Durham and over West Virginia before a capacity crowd in Pittsburgh, brought a Sugar Bowl invitation, and a close defeat by Georgia Tech at New Orleans that didn't hurt the Panther's national ranking.

The Panthers went to the Gator Bowl in 1956, after a 7-2-1 season, and again lost to Georgia Tech 21-14.

In 1957, Pitt was 4-6, in 1958, 5-4-1, in 1959 finished with a 6-4 record and had a 4-3-3 record in 1960.

In 1961, Pitt was 3-7, the most disastrous record since 1951. In 1962, the record was 5-5.

In 1963, Pitt finished with a 9-1 mark and was ranked third in the country.

After losing seasons in 1964, 3-5-2, and 1965, 3-7, Michelosen was succeeded by Dave Hart.

Hart undertook an extensive recruiting campiagn and quickly gained the reputation as one of the finest recruiters in Pitt history. Unfortunately, the squads did not perform well on the field, and he resigned after three years and a 3-27 record.

He was replaced in 1969 by former Pitt player and assistant coach, Carl DePasqua. In four years, DePasqua brought the Panthers respectability but was unable to establish a winner. He was released after a 1-10 record in 1972, giving him an overall mark of 13-29.

The losing trend caused the University to take a hard look at its football program, and a number of improvements were instituted. One of the country's brightest young football coaches, Johnny Majors, was hired and the program took an immediate upturn. In his first season, Majors took Pitt to its first winning season in 10 years (6-4-1) and its first bowl appearance (Fiesta Bowl) in 17 seasons. It all marked "A MAJOR Change in Pitt Football."

Pitt Hall of Fame Awardees

Thus far the University of Pittsburgh has had seven players, one coach and one player-coach elected to the National Hall of Fame. Jock Sutherland, a great guard from 1914 through 1917, and Pitt's brilliantly successful coach from 1924 through 1938, was elected in 1953 being among the first coaches named.

In 1954 Bob Peck, Pitt's first All-American (center in 1915 and 1916), was elected as the first Pitt player to have his name placed on the honor roll.

In 1958, Marshall Goldberg, an All-American halfback in 1937 and an All-American fullback in 1938, was elected.

In 1965, George McLaren, an All-America fullback in 1917 and 1918, was elected.

In 1967, Herb Stein, an All-America center in 1921, was elected.

In 1970, Tom Davies, an All-America halfback in 1918 and 1920, was elected.

In 1971, Joe Thompson, outstanding player-coach from 1904-1912, was elected.

In 1973, Hube Wagner, brilliant end and running back from 1910-1913, and Herb McCracken, back and lineman from 1918-20, were elected.

Jock Sutherland

Dr. John Bain (Jock) Sutherland was a great player and coach at Pitt.

Entering Pitt within a few years after he left his native Scotland he was a regular guard on the great Pitt teams of 1914-1917, teams that lost but one game during the entire period.

Upon graduation, with a dental degree in 1918, he went into the service, coached the Camp Greenleaf Team with the AEF, then came back to the coaching job at Lafayette. Four years later, in 1924, he replaced Pop Warner at Pitt, and after getting the foundation laid, put the Panthers back into the first line again.

There were national titles in 1927, 1929, and 1937; eastern honors in 1925, 1927, 1929, 1931, 1932, 1934, 1936, and 1937. Rose Bowl appearances in 1928, 1930 and 1933, climaxed with a win in 1937. All-Americans were turned out with regularity during this period

Leaving Pitt in 1939, he coached Brooklyn in 1940 and 1941, then went into the Navy. Upon his return he took over the Pittsburgh Steelers, giving them their greatest days until his very sudden death in the spring of 1948.

Bob Peck

Bob Peck was Pitt's initial first team All-America, being selected by Walter Camp in 1915 and 1916. In both of these years Pitt was undefeated, and in his sophomore year, 1914, the Panthers lost only one game.

He was captain of the 1916 Pitt team that is rated among the greatest of all time, both at Pitt and in the nation. Playing under Pop Warner, Pitt's coach during his last two years, he was a terrific roving center of the old variety, and an accurate passing center who could lead the speedy Pitt backs on the famous single and double wing attack which Warner was then perfecting.

After his graduation he moved to Culver Military Academy where he was athletic director and head coach until his sudden death in 1934.

Marshall Goldberg

Marshall Goldberg came to Pitt from Elkins, West Virginia, and for the three years of his varsity career was the most highly publicized and popular back in Pitt history. These three years, coincidental with Jock Sutherland's last three as Pitt's head coach, saw the Panthers win a national title, a Rose Bowl game, and two eastern championships.

In two years as the regular left halfback Goldberg was the leading scorer and leading ground gainer, and then, moving to fullback with the famous Dream Backfield of 1938, he became a terrific blocker and power back, despite his relative lack of weight (185). He was a defensive expert during his three years and starred at this phase when he went into pro ball.

On campus he was a member of Phi Epsilon Pi, national social fraternity, and ODK, national honorary leadership society.

Upon graduation he played pro ball and was in the insurance business in Chicago, served nearly four years as a line officer in the Navy, and then finished his pro career with the Chicago Cardinals when they won their first title. He is president of the Goldberg-Emmerman Corp. in Elk Grove Village, Ill.

George McLaren

George McLaren, who came to Pitt from Peabody High School, is considered the greatest fullback in the school's history.

He played four years, 1915-1918, and during this period, the Panthers compiled a 29-0 record. McLaren was captain of the 1918 team. McLaren scored 13 touchdowns in 1917, a school record, and also holds the one-season rushing mark by a Pitt fullback with 782 yards. He also holds the longest run from scrimmage, 92 yards in 1917. He was never stopped without making a gain during his intercollegiate career.

McLaren also was a member of the basketball team for two years and a performer on the track squad for two campaigns.

McLaren now resides in Baltimore, Maryland, and is retired.

Herb Stein

Herb Stein came to Pitt from Warren, Ohio, and for four years was one of the greatest offensive and defensive centers in Panther history.

A member of the great "Pop" Warner teams in 1918-21, he was named as a first-team All-American in 1921. During his four years, Pitt won 21, lost five and tied four. His brother, Russ, was also an All-American tackle at Washington & Jefferson.

Now a highly successful business executive, Stein owns and operates nine corporations. He resides in Cleveland.

Tom Davies

A two-time All-American halfback, Tom Davies ranks as one of Pitt's greatest backs. After prepping at Kiski, Davies entered Pitt in 1918 and was named on the late Walter Camp's All-America team as a freshman under Glenn Scobie (Pop) Warner. Davies was a regular for four seasons and was again named All-America in 1920. He holds three Pitt punt return records and ranks second in the all-time total yards gained department with 3,931 yards.

Following graduation from Pitt, Tom spent 25 years as a coach at Penn, Geneva, Allegheny, Rochester, Kiski, Scranton and Western Reserve.

Davies died this past year.

Joe Thompson

The late Joe Thompson, outstanding player-coach at Pitt from 1904-1912, was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1971. A native of Beaver Falls, Pa., Thompson came to Pitt in 1904 (after attending Geneva) and led the Panthers to their first undefeated season. In compiling a 10-0 record, Pitt gave up only five points to opponents. He captained the team in 1905 and in his three years the Panthers achieved an excellent 26-6 mark.

After taking over the coaching chores in 1908, Thompson compiled a four-year record of 30-14-2. His 1910 team was not only undefeated (9-0) but also unscored upon.

Hube Wagner

Hube Wagner came to Pitt from Monaca High School in 1910 and immediately became a member of the great Panther team which went undefeated, untied and unscored upon. While primarily an end, he filled in at every other position except quarterback because of his great versatility.

When old timers talk of all-time Pitt greats Wagner's name always comes early in the conversations. Competing against such opponents as Notre Dame, Penn State, the famous Carlisle Indians, Navy, Cornell, West Virginia, Bucknell, etc., he was sensational because of wild tackling and his powerful ball carrying. He never, however, made the Walter Camp All-American team because that famous selector did not see Pitt play until 1915.

Since graudation, he has become an outstanding surgeon and for 12 years was a member of the University Board of Trustees. He was also elected a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

Herb McCracken

Herb McCracken, a native of Sewickley, was one of the most versatile and also one of the lightest football players in Pitt history. He made up in football instinct and desire for any lack of size, and those same attributes made him a successful coach.

He was a varsity player under Pop Warner from 1918-20, participating at halfback, fullback, guard, end and center. He also played three years of basketball, captaining the team his senior year.

He went on to achieve outstanding coaching records at Allegheny College and Lafayette. Herb left coaching in 1935 to co-found Scholastic Magazine, Inc. He has served as a trustee of both Pitt and Lafayette. He is a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

Pitt Ranks 5th in National Championships

Elusive. Cantankerous. Agonizing. Dreadful. Wonderful. These are all adjectives used to describe that holiest of grails in college football – the search for No. 1.

To settle countless arguments Sports Illustrated in 1970 researched the first and only complete and wholly accurate list ever compiled of college football's mythical national champions. Every recognized authority that ever presumed to name a No. 1 is included. They include Parke H. Davis Ratings (1889-1935), the Helms Athletic Foundation (1889-1970), the Dickinson System (1924-1940), the Illustrated Football Annual (1924-1941), The Football Theasaurus (1927-1958), the Dunkel System (1929-1970), the Litkenhous System (1934-1970), the Williamson System (1932-1963), the Associated Press (1936-1970), the United Press International (1950-1970), the Football Writers Association of America (1954-1970), and the National Football Hall of Fame (1959-1970).

In all of college football, only 42 different schools have claimed a national championship, and only 28 have managed to win two national titles. As shown below the University of Pittsburgh is 5th to properly rank as one of the nation's all time great football names.

These Panthers Rambled

Here are the top Pitt ground gainers and scorers since 1914. They traveled far in picking-up yards from scrimmage, passing, kick returns, and interceptions, and they put a lot of markers on the Pitt side of the scoreboard.

Panthers on the Air

Pitt football will be beamed via both radio and TV this fall throughout Pennsylvania and into the surrounding States. It will, in fact, be the most comprehensive coverage of Pitt football in the history of the school.

Bill Hillgrove

John Sauer

On radio, an outstanding new two-man broadcasting team will call the action for a 20-station plus network, originating with WTAE (1250) in Pittsburgh.

Bill Hillgrove of WTAE Radio and TV begins his first year as the play-by-play man, replacing the late Ed Conway. He will be joined this year by nationally-known TV analyst John Sauer who will team with Hillgrove to give the Pitt network a professional, first-class broadcasting crew.

In the last several years, Hillgrove has gained a reputation as one of the State's most knowledgeable sportscasters. He joined the Pitt broadcasts five years ago as the color man on the football games, and for the past four years has been the Voice of Pitt Basketball as play-by-play man. He has proven to be an enthusiastic, yet highly accurate professional who also adds the human, behind-the-scenes dimension to his broadcasts.

In addition to his play-by-play duties, Hillgrove will also host the three weekly Johnny Majors radio and TV shows. Besides his sports duties on radio and TV, Hillgrove has his own radio music show. He holds a bachelor's degree in radio/TV journalism from Duquesne University.

National Football League analyst Johnny Sauer joins the Panther radio team this year to analyze the action and provide color commentary. Sauer is in his 12th consecutive year of broadcasting with CBS-TV and will continue working the pro games this season. He was also associated with the Hughes Sports Network from 1970-72, and has worked numerous bowl games including the Gator, Astro Blue-Bonnett, Cotton, Tangerine, Blue-Gray and last year's Pitt-Arizona State Fiesta Bowl. Earlier he served as sports director of WING Radio in Dayton, Ohio from 1957-71.

Sauer is a 1946 graduate of the U.S. Military Academy where he was a classmate of Pitt Chancellor, Dr. Wesley Posvar, and a football teammate of Pitt Athletic Director, Cas Myslinski. He has a long list of coaching and administrative credentials — backfield coach at West Point from 1947-49, backfield coach at Florida from 1950-52, backfield coach of the Los Angeles Rams from 1953-54, athletic director and head coach of The Citadel from 1955-56, assistant coach of the College All-Stars from 1959-65, and head coach of the All-Stars in 1966 and 1967.

Also on radio this fall, WTAE Radio will carry pre-game and post-game locker room Johnny Majors' shows. The 10-minute pre-game show will immediately precede all Pitt broadcasts, and the 15-minute post-game locker room show will be carried at 5:45 p.m. each Saturday following the game.

WTAE-TV (Channel 4) in Pittsburgh will carry the weekly half-hour Johnny Majors' TV Show, featuring highlights of game action, discussions of strategy with Majors, and visits from Pitt players and assistant coaches.

Discussions are underway to carry the show on a syndicated basis throughout the State, and as this press guide went to print, it appeared to be a strong possibility. The show will be carried on WTAE-TV from 6:30-7:00 p.m. on Sunday, and on Monday evenings following the Action News report.

The Pitt-Florida State game will be beamed live back to the Pittsburgh area over WPGH-TV, Channel 53. Greg Benedetti of WWSW Radio will handle the play-by-play, with Gil Lucas of WPGH providing the color commentary.

Memo to Press-Radio-TV

This brochure has been prepared for the members of the working press, radio and television who have so ably covered the Pitt athletic scene in the past years. We are appreciative of their interest and attention, and it is hoped this brochure will assist them in their coverage of the Pitt football team.

Contents of this booklet and changes in personnel and plans will be supplemented before and during the season by the Sports Information Office. If you desire additional information, services, or material, contact:

PRESS BOX: Accommodations in the press box will be furnished to representatives of Pittsburgh district papers, metropolitan papers filing for Sunday editions, press services, Pittsburgh radio and TV sports commentators, and scouts from schools playing either Pitt or its opponent. Requests should be made in advance, indicating whether or not Western Union or Sports Com services will be needed. The press gate is Gate #11.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Sideline passes will be issued to Pittsburgh papers, news services, daily papers normally covering the opposing team, and student publications of the two schools. Photographers may not work in front of the bench and must stay behind the line and obey the instructions of the officer detailed to the area. Space on the photographers deck is reserved for newspapers in the same manner as field passes, and also for newsreel and game movie cameramen. This space must be requested in advance to insure adequate space. Field photographers should enter Gate #3. Photographers covering from the stand should use Gate #11.
